Heilmaier GmbH Messedesign

Heilmaier Messedesign from Munich is your one-stop worldwide partner for exhibition design, planning, and realization.

From the conception to the design to the global implementation of that design, you get everything you need from one source. Because we will work with you to set trade show goals, we are as committed to those goals as you are. No matter what city or country your show is in, Heilmaier Messedesign can help you out anywhere in the world. For 70 years, exhibition design and construction has been our passion

Whether you find yourself in Munich, Singapore, Las Vegas, or Paris, we are your stand builder on-site. In China, you can enjoy the service offered by our subsidiary office in Shanghai, staffed with an energetic team of designers and project managers.

We guarantee that our creative team of designers and architects will create not a booth but a whole exhibition concept that will adhere to your particular wishes and needs. In order to do this, however, your ideas and plans will have to play a major role. We want to work with you to create goal-oriented designs that speak to your company, your philosophy, and the standards you both have and are trying to reach.

Our energetic Technical Planning Team is there for you every step of the way.

For us, the installation of a project results from the professional implementation of your trade show concept. Our team in Munich possesses the necessary experience, the essential know how, and a surplus of enthusiasm that enables us to get your job done right.
